

Teacher Maria Botha with Jordan Samuels.

There was much excitement as the little ones prepared for their performance.

Young pupils hit all the right notes

The entire Grade R class at Good Hope Seminary Junior School in Vredehoek started with violin lessons in March/April this year. Last Friday the young five and six year-old violinists performed for the first time in front of a public audience. They are taught through the Suzuki violin method by renowned violin teacher Maria Botha and the lessons form part of a life transformation programme, sponsored by Musiquelaine South Africa. Carina Roux was there to capture the moment.

Sadiqah Arendze (from Vredehoek) keeps a close eye on her teacher while playing.

The learners are being taught through the Suzuki method by renowned violin teacher Maria Botha (right).

Omphile Fena from Gugulethu).

PHOTOS: CARINA ROUX